

The IID Presents

Following the Current

A Forum on Global Affairs and News Media Today

Please join us for the second talk in our special winter series:
“Hard News, Hard Times for the Media: Will The News Get Better?”

John Owen is a professor of International Journalism at City University in London, England. He has served as an Executive Editor for Programmes for the Al Jazeera English Channel. He is the Chairman of London's Frontline Club and the co-editor (and contributor) to the 2008 book International News Reporting: Frontlines and Deadlines. Owen is a Trustee of The George Soros Open Society Foundation. He spent 20 years with CBC, 5 years as the Chief News Editor of TV News (1985-1990) and Chief of Foreign Bureau (1990-1996).

Wednesday, February 1, 2012
6:30-8:30 PM

George Vari Engineering and
Computing Centre (ENG) 103

Please visit ryerson.ca/maps or iid.kislenko.com

